Finding Your MAC Address

Knowing your Media Access Control, or MAC, address can sometimes be beneficial. For UVA-Wise, your MAC address gives us a better understanding of who “you” are as a computer. To compare, your computer’s MAC address acts as a social security number, uniquely identifying and separating it from all of the other machines on campus.

The following will guide you through finding your MAC address:

1. Start → Run
2. Type “CMD”
3. Press OK
4. Once the command prompt opens, type “ipconfig / all”
5. The 12-digit Physical Address is the same as MAC address
 - a. __:__:__:__:__:__
